

KEN LEVITAN

As the founder and co-president of Vector Management, Ken Levitan leads one of the most formidable artist, lifestyle and brand management companies in the entertainment business today. Along with partner Jack Rovner, Levitan has played a role in the successful careers of artists such as Emmylou Harris, John Hiatt, Kings of Leon, Kenny Rogers, The Fray, Kesha, Meat Loaf, Peter Frampton, Tom Morello, Trace Adkins, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Trisha Yearwood, Kid Rock, T Bone Burnett, Blackberry Smoke, Aaron Lewis, Bon Jovi, and many more while Vector Recordings, a division of the management company, has released acclaimed records for such artists as Damien Rice, Herbie Hancock and Queen Latifah.

Under Levitan's direction, Vector Management launched Vector Eats, a culinary division that represents such award-winning chefs as Aaron Sanchez, Graham Elliott and Jonathan Waxman. He is also a co-producer of the annual Music City Food & Wine Festival, a unique event that brings together top musicians with today's culinary stars, held in Nashville each Fall.

Levitan, who has received two Grammy® Awards, is an active member of multiple boards both in New York where he grew up and in Nashville where he now resides. He is Chairman of the Nashville Convention & Visitors Bureau, a trustee on the Country Music Hall of Fame board, is economic chair of the Music City Music Council, is a board member of the Country Music Association and the Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce and also sits on the advisory board for Brooklyn Sports & Entertainment.
